

Object : QR Codes on Industeel Mill Test Certificates

Dear Customer,

You may have noticed a new feature appearing lately on our Mill Test Certificates: it is a QR Code.

A QR Code (or Quick Response Code) is a 2 dimensional barcode. When pointing with a QR Code Reader (free and easy application to install on a smart phone for example), the official page of the Mill Test Certificate from Industeel's e-Service portal will be displayed on your internet browser.

This QR Code will send you directly on the Industeel Web site as an example.

Industeel decided to implement this practice for two reasons:

1. The certificate showed on the web site will show the current revision of the paper document. In case this is not the latest version, a message on the web site will mention it.
2. The certificate on the web site will be a proof that the paper document is not a counterfeit.

Please contact your Industeel usual sales contact if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Yves BOUDART
Commercial Director